Access Bank bridges N800b agric funding gap between Germany and Nigeria

Access Bank Plc has expressed its commitment to bridging the N800 billion financing gap for agricultural value chain in the country.

Speaking at the Nigeria Agrofood Fairtrade sponsored by the bank in Lagos, its Head, Agric Desk, Opeyemi Oguntayo, said Nigeria has not been able to fully maximise agricultural gains, as only 40 per cent out of the 80 per cent arable land in the country is being cultivated.

He, however, said both the government and the private sector improved their interest in agriculture since 2016, adding that such renewed interest has raised the value of agricultural contributions to the country’s Gross Domestic Product (GDP).

Nigeria to address inconsistency in oil, gas sector

From Kingsley Jeremiah, Abuja

The ministries of Petroleum Resources, Finance and Budget & National Planning have promoted a new initiative targeted at addressing key challenges in the nation’s oil and gas sector.

Speaking in Abuja at the inaugural meeting of the Nigerian Petroleum Fiscal Consistency Network, which would drive the initiative, Adviser to the Minister of Petroleum Resources, Dr. Tim Okon, said the group would focus on addressing issues of data, fiscal and results consistency.

While discrepancy in data, fiscal terms and others remained a major challenge affecting investments and informed decisions in the nation’s oil and gas sector, Okon said the move formed part of strategies to reform the sector.

With the development, he explained that reliable and properly analyzed data would be provided in the sector to enable investors and government to make informed decisions.

He added that the ministries already have a bidding Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) that would ensure that the objectives of the network were properly delivered.

“This is part of the reforms in the oil and gas sector. It is consistent with ongoing reforms, whether it is reinforcing economic growth or ensuring that we make decisions on analysis of information,” he said.

He stressed that inconsistencies in the figures of crude oil production, revenue and other statistics dramatically affect projections and policy development.

Okon pointed out that the country needed to properly capture data and show integrity of the data in a consistent manner, adding that the manner in which sectoral results is presented remains key and include ways of improving the sector’s governance.
Fairtrade moves to boost technology in agriculture sector

To boost technology in the agricultural sector, Fairtrade has organised its fifth international tradeshow where investors will partner with the country for better agricultural practices.

The three-day programme will focus on Nigeria’s agrofood and plastprint pack to promote packaging of farm products.

Managing Director, Fairtrade, Paul Marz, said the exhibition aimed at bringing technology to the entire food value chain from the field to food processing.

A year of consolidation for Amaplast

by Rob Coker

Amaplast has completed its year-end balance sheet for 2018, incorporating foreign trade data from the Italian Institute of Statistics (ISTAT).

As regards exports, a geographical analysis of destination markets shows stagnation in Europe, historically the main market for Italian manufacturers. The EU markets have lost a small amount of ground to the rest of Europe due to greater sales to various countries – however, this excludes Russia (an important destination), where sales have continued to slip.

Amaplast has organised a number of initiatives for the coming months to promote the Italian plastics and rubber processing industry:

- Plastico Brasil (Sao Paulo, March 25-29);
- Plastimagen (Mexico City, April 2-5);
- Chinaplas (Guangzhou, May 21-24);
- PlastPrintPack in Nigeria (Lagos, March 26-28) and in Ethiopia (Addis Ababa, May 9-11); and
- Plastpol (Kielce, May 28-31).
